Industries We Serve

Odyssey has the capacity, carrier relationships, and expertise to handle all types of long-haul intermodal shipments, however because of our industry expertise, experience, and commitment to service, we are especially proficient in the following areas:

Consolidated Metals Shipping

Odyssey moves coils, sheets, tube, bar, and long products through consolidated intermodal shipments across our network. Our load-and-roll pallet (LRP) process is built specifically for metals. These LRPs are required for safe rail transport and allow the product to move through the rail network while minimizing handling and reducing damage risk. We use modal analysis and our transload and warehouse network to design consolidated shipping solutions that are consistent, efficient, and built around your supply chain.

ISO Tanks

Odyssey is North America's leading provider of liquid bulk intermodal services. We source both food-grade tanks as well as tanks for hazardous and non-hazardous chemical transport. ISO tanks are a direct alternative to shipping via tank truck for long-distance shipments. Our in-depth knowledge of import and export regulations ensures your goods move smoothly, avoiding costly penalties and delays. Simplify your compliance and procurement process with a single point coordination.

Containerized Cargo

We provide rail services for steamship and private 20', 20' ISO, 40', 45', and 53' containers moving in international and domestic cargo service. Choose from door-to-door, ramp-to-door, ramp-to-ramp, and door-to-ramp — and leverage our on-dock expertise for international and domestic shipments.

Trust the Intermodal Partner with the Right Connections

Odyssey has secured one of the most extensive networks of rail partnerships to in North America to provide coast-to-coast intermodal throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico. We are direct contract holders with major Class 1 railroads and enjoy relationships with all major ports and equipment providers in North America.
